The chapter will serve the area which includes the areas of Greenville, Spartanburg, and Anderson as well as the other surrounding counties and cities.

The chapter got its start when a small group of payroll professionals decided it was time to provide continuing education and networking opportunities for payroll and human resource professionals in the area.

In the future the group hopes to offer study groups for those who would like to sit for the CPP and FPC exams as well as get involved in community initiatives.

Please visit our website at <http://www.upstatescapa.org>

The goals of the group are as follows:

- Offer RCH's for CPP and FPC's (the two designations that are offered by the American Payroll Association)
- Provide on-going timely education on topics important to payroll professionals
- Provide education about payroll to the community
- Provide networking opportunities.

Payroll Certifications

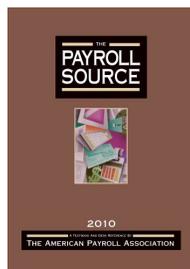

Are you interested in investing in your future? How about sitting for the FPC or CPP exam?

The FPC is a certification for payroll beginners and service and support professionals with payroll knowledge. There is no payroll experience requirement to take this exam. The CPP is a certification credential for those with payroll knowledge and experience.

2011 Testing Windows

Fall: September 10 – October 8, 2011, registration will open 07/10/11

RCH's will be offered at every monthly general meeting of the Upstate SC Chapter of the APA!

Payroll Certifications

Are you interested in becoming a Certified Payroll Professional or getting the Fundamental Payroll Certification? Are you interested in studying with others for the Fall 2011 or Spring 2012 testing windows?

See below for some additional information from the APA website on the certifications and the process involved.

Q: How can an individual determine which payroll certification exam he or she is best suited for?

A: First check the eligibility requirements. An individual who does not meet any of the eligibility criteria for the Certified Payroll Professional (CPP) exam, but wants to obtain a payroll certification, must take the Fundamental Payroll Certification (FPC) exam. Individuals who meet any of the CPP eligibility criteria but are uncertain of their strengths and weaknesses within payroll, should utilize the American Payroll Association's Knowledge Assessment Calculator (KAC) to help them determine which exam to take. For more information on the KAC visit www.payrollkac.com

Q: How can an individual determine which areas of payroll they may need to focus on in preparing for the exam?

A: Each of the payroll certification exams, the Fundamental Payroll Certification (FPC) and the Certified Payroll Professional (CPP) follow the applicable exam's content outline. The content outline can be found in the applicable Examination Handbook and on APA's Web site

The Payroll Certification Exams are designed to test individuals' Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities (KSA) within the payroll body of knowledge. KSAs are a more detailed version of the exam's content outline.

To assist candidates in defining which areas of payroll to emphasize their study on, the American Payroll Association's (APA) Knowledge Assessment Calculator (KAC) is a Web-based tool that assesses an individual's payroll knowledge, scores their performance, and immediately recommends training options. This is an assessment tool, it is not a training tool, therefore there is no feedback on what the correct answers are. Many organizations and local APA chapter study groups utilize the KAC to aid them in determining which payroll certification exam best suits each individual.

Q: When and how should an individual begin to prepare to take one of the payroll certification exams?

A: It is always best to start early! The majority of those who have successfully obtained payroll certification have stated "It is best to begin preparing for the exam at least 6 months in advance." There are several methods available to help individuals study and prepare for the payroll certification exams. The American Payroll Association (APA) offers various courses specially designed to prepare individuals for the exams. In addition, there are some self-study tools available such as The Payroll Source®, PayTrain®, Payroll Practice Fundamentals and Fundamentals of Payroll. Many local APA chapters host exam study groups and some local area colleges/universities offer the PayTrain College & University courses. For more information and a complete list of courses that can be used as study tools, visit APA's Courses and Conferences page.

There are also various resources and publications available to prepare for the payroll exams. In addition to courses and resources, there are many free publications from government agencies and websites that provide valuable reference material. A more detailed list of courses, resources, publications, and websites is contained in Appendix B of the Examination Handbooks.

Q: What does it cost to take a payroll certification exam and what forms of payment are accepted?

A: The fee for the American Payroll Association (APA) certification exams depends on the exam type - Fundamental Payroll Certification (FPC) or Certified Payroll Professional (CPP). Payroll certification exam fees for the Fall 2009 and Spring 2010 administrations are as follows: FPC - $290.00, CPP - $355.00. Future payroll certification exam fees are subject to change. All applicable fees are published in the Examination Candidate Handbooks.

Do you have job opens at your employer? We will be happy to include your listing in the Payroll Chat, website, and e-mail the membership with your information. Please contact Ingrid Smith at info@upstatescapa.org with a brief job description and contact information.

What Is National Payroll Week (NPW)?

NPW celebrates the unique partnership among America's workers, their companies, the payroll professionals who pay them and critical government programs such as, social security, Medicare, fair labor standards and child support. Together, through payroll withholding, they contribute and collect 71.9% of U.S. Treasury revenue.

This special week celebrates many things important to each of us who work. From the economic, cultural, and social achievements of workers, to the significance of "an honest day's work for an honest day's pay," National Payroll Week is a celebration on many levels.

NPW Fast Facts:

- The American Payroll Association founded National Payroll Week in 1996.
- National Payroll Week coincides with the celebration of Labor Day. This special week celebrates the economic, cultural, and social achievements of workers and the significance of "an honest day's work for an honest day's pay."
- AMERICA WORKS BECAUSE WE'RE WORKING FOR AMERICA®—NPW celebrates the unique partnership among America's workers, our companies, the payroll professionals who pay us, and critical government programs such as social security, Medicare, fair labor standards, and child support. Together, through payroll withholding, we contribute and collect 71.9% of U.S. Treasury revenue.
- NPW is a national campaign to help America's workers understand more about their paychecks, the payroll withholding system and other payroll-driven benefits.
- NPW 2010 ad appeared in The New York Times Magazine, U.S. News & World Report, Smart Money, Journal of Accountancy, and Human Resource Executive magazine.
- During NPW, local APA chapters and members host presentations to school and civic groups, participate in community service initiatives, and use local media to pass along information to today's workers and the workers of tomorrow.
- In 2010, 96 NPW government proclamations were issued across the United States.
- In 2000, APA created a year-round touchstone, www.nationalpayrollweek.com, to provide workers with valuable information about their paychecks, withholding, the payroll industry and celebrating National Payroll Week.
